

MY MEADVILLE

COMMUNITY ACTION PLAN

THANK YOU

The work that has been done in the last three years would not have been possible without our volunteers and supporters. A special thanks goes to our Leadership Team members of the past and present: Dave Anderson, Heather Fish, Jack Harkless, Deb Lehman, Nancy Mangilo-Bittner, Stephanie Martin, Peter McCaffery, Julie McClymonds, Marissa McIntire, Zach Norwood, Jason Puryear, Delaney Rohan, Josh Sherretts, Christin Smith, Mary Spicer, Autumn Vogel, Jill Withey, Peter Zimmer. Over the last three years, we've laid the groundwork for much more to come. We thank our Stewardship Team who will steward this plan and hold our community accountable: Justin Adkins, Kelly Boulton, Katie Davis-Bonilla, Bennett Gould, John Hartnett, Ron Mattocks, Gabby Miller, Lee Scandinaro, and Julie Wilson as well as members of the Leadership Team who will continue on. We thank the Redevelopment Authority of the City of Meadville for hosting this initiative and the City of Meadville and City Council for their on-going support. We thank the Pennsylvania Humanities Council and the Orton Family Foundation for giving Meadville the opportunity to implement Community Heart & Soul, with special thanks to Mimi Iijima and Leanne Tingay for guiding and supporting us along the way. We thank and send our love to our sister Heart & Soul initiatives, Heart of Williamsport and Greater Carlisle Heart & Soul; it's been wonderful learning alongside you.

Finally, we would like to thank all of our volunteers, event attendees, social media followers, and everyone who shared their stories and lent their efforts to create a plan for our community based on what matters most to us. YOU are the HEART & SOUL of Meadville.

THE EVOLUTION OF OUR COMMUNITY VALUES

2015

Meadville was awarded a grant from the Pennsylvania Humanities Council to implement the Orton Family Foundation's Community Heart & Soul process.

Summer 2017

We attended events and gathered stories in as many ways as we could. We hosted listening sessions where residents gathered to listen to the stories of their neighbors to uncover what people value most about Meadville.

Fall 2017

My Meadville hosted a Community Celebration that brought together over 150 people to create a first draft of value statements that communicate our town's common values.

Spring 2018

My Meadville hosted a series of potluck dinners to gather residents' ideas for action based on our values. These potlucks culminated in the My Meadville Ideas Summit which gave folks a chance to prioritize possible actions.

Spring 2016

We piloted the story-gathering process, gathering thin data at community events.

Fall 2016

We officially launched the project and began conducting interviews and story circles.

Spring 2017

We expanded our Interview Team and, with the help of our wonderful volunteers, gathered hundreds of stories from folks in our community.

Winter 2017

Value statements were revised and validated by the community through digital surveys, presentations, and public events.

Summer 2018

My Meadville unveiled its Community Action Plan, a plan made for and with our community based on our shared values.

INTRODUCTION

Founded in 1788 along the banks of French Creek in Northwestern Pennsylvania, Meadville is the County seat for Crawford County. Home to more than 13,000 full-time residents and 2,000 Allegheny College students, Meadville serves as the hub for business, industry, healthcare, education, the arts, recreation, service and tourism in the region.

In 2015, the City of Meadville applied for a grant from the Pennsylvania Humanities Council and the Orton Family Foundation. Meadville has faced many of the same issues challenging small rural towns across our country, such as population decline, a dwindling tax base and economic turbulence. City leaders and residents saw a need for greater connection, a stronger sense of community identity, and a vision for the future rooted in what matters most to community members.

The City of Meadville recognized that the above needs could be furthered through the Orton Family Foundation's Community Heart & Soul process. Thanks to the hard work of many local residents, Meadville received the grant to conduct this humanities-based community planning process and became one of four Pennsylvania Heart & Soul pilot communities. In the three short years since receiving the grant, Meadville has seen exciting results and an early manifestation of meaningful work.

Since 2015, we, the My Meadville Heart & Soul initiative, have interviewed over 700 residents to uncover what matters most to them about Meadville. We trained over 150 residents to interview their neighbors, friends, coworkers, and classmates, then watched as connections grew stronger and understanding grew deeper. We sought input from thousands of people at community events and witnessed those same event participants transform into community leaders. We mapped out our community networks to understand our connections and how to better collaborate, share, and communicate with each other. We partnered with dozens of agencies, businesses, and organizations and have seen interconnectivity between these groups develop. This work, spearheaded by our team of volunteer leaders, engaged residents from all walks of life, from those who have never had a seat at the table to those who have their name engraved on their very own chair, in charting a course for our city.

The following document is the culmination of three years of story gathering, data analysis, and collective visioning. Included are ideas for action that are rooted in our eight identified common values, which were crafted and vetted by our community. These ideas make up a vision for Meadville that builds on recent successes and recognizes the momentum that has taken hold.

However, the My Meadville Heart & Soul Initiative is not solely responsible for the good work that's taken place or the positive momentum that has been building. Our city's leaders have launched programs to assist entrepreneurs, and combat slum and blight, and our friends and neighbors have become leaders in their own right with neighborhood programs. This good work is happening simultaneously with our Heart & Soul process and is inextricably linked to its success. Therefore, the following document also includes important community initiatives that have sprouted up in the last three years and are rooted in our community values. Some of these projects are early successes of the Heart & Soul process, others happened independently, but all make up what is, at this point in time, Meadville's Heart & Soul.

We invite you to read the following plan for our community. Our plan is to create a place where folks belong, where they are listened to and cared for, and where everyone can contribute to building the wealth of our community. Further, we invite you to find your place in the Community Action Plan and we hope that you will contribute what you can.

Inclusion

We value a local community that celebrates and accepts all of the differences among individuals that keep our town vibrant and culturally beautiful.

Subthemes

- Educational, supportive, and engaging events & programming
- New ideas, accepting of others
- Willingness to change
- Build relationships
- Retain individuality
- Inclusive and welcoming

What's Underway

In the last few years we've seen...

- the revival of our local National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) chapter
- Crawford County Human Services implement a national model to make Crawford County a trauma-informed community through the Systems of Care initiative
- the establishment of the Crawford County chapter of Showing Up for Racial Justice (SURJ), a national anti-racism group

Inclusion

We value a local community that celebrates and accepts all of the differences among individuals that keep our town vibrant and culturally beautiful.

Action 1 Create a 24-Hour Community Center

Overview

Residents have expressed a need for a community space that is a safe, centrally located, religiously unaffiliated, and welcoming to all without financial barriers. This space will be identified as a information source for folks in need of services, especially the LGBTQ youth. Identified needs include, but are not limited to, education, support services, activities, and mentorship to educate and grow community pride among all resident diversities.

Existing Resources

- Successful local community center models like CHAPS, ARC, and soup kitchen
- Blighted/vacant properties
- Call for community center in City's comprehensive plan

Community Values

- ✓ Small Town
- ✓ Health & Safety
- ✓ Children & Youth

Action 2 Establish ongoing Town Hall meetings

Overview

The ideas presented in this Community Action Plan came from activated citizens and their experiences in Meadville. To maintain active citizen participation, quarterly Town Hall meetings will be held to address topics that matter to residents. Clicker polling is a suggested means of participation. These meetings can be increased in frequency if participation increases and the community yearns to address issues more consistently.

Inclusion

We value a local community that celebrates and accepts all of the differences among individuals that keep our town vibrant and culturally beautiful.

Action 3 Expand trauma-Informed trainings

Overview

In conversations across Crawford County, My Meadville has heard much about trauma-informed care. Childhood traumas such as violence in the home, family instability, and food insecurity are not isolated incidents, but rather the beginning of struggles that continue well into a child's future, impacting them physically, mentally, and behaviorally. It is a desire shared among many residents to see those who work with the public, and therefore interact with those impacted by trauma, undergo trauma-informed training. These trainings are designed to help participants understand the impacts of trauma and allowing them to modify their behavior and interactions. Rather than act out of bias, these individuals, such as teachers, social workers, police officers, fire fighters, code enforcement officers, and others, will be able to help build resilience and heal our community.

Community Values

- ✓ Health & Safety

Existing Resources

- Systems of Care initiative
- Emerging trauma-informed research

Health & Safety

We will be a healthy community in which everyone has access to health care, fresh food, quality housing, and support services.

Subthemes

- Addiction prevention + treatment
- Healthy & locally grown foods
- Safe places
- Active police force
- Locally-driven
- Educational programs

What's Underway

In the last few years, we've seen...

- the Crawford County Planning Office undergo a comprehensive county-wide housing study to collect in-depth data on the state of housing in Crawford County
- Crawford County Human Services receive a grant and subsequently launch a cross-sector initiative to make Crawford County one of the first trauma-informed communities
- the development of more than 3 community gardens, over 10 city gardens, one community orchard, and the Grow Meadville Garden Network that connects them all
- the rise of Not One More, a grassroots effort to fight the cycle of addiction and support those recovering from addiction
- the launch of the Meadville Medical Center's Let's Talk Campaign to de-stigmatize addiction
- the enstatement of the Community Navigator position, a Medical Center employee dedicated to helping community members navigate the path to recovery
- the start of the Mobile Market House, an initiative to increase access to local foods and support local farmers

Health & Safety

We will be a healthy community in which everyone has access to health care, fresh food, quality housing, and support services.

Action 1 Change zoning ordinance that prevents urban agriculture

Overview

Currently, the City's Zoning Ordinance prohibits urban agriculture which includes community gardens within City limits. A moratorium has been placed on the ordinance to allow for the development of community gardens that we've seen (Creating Landscapes for Families' garden on South Main, the MARC Community Garden, and the garden in Fifth Ward). That moratorium is due to expire. The City of Meadville's Planning & Zoning Commission, however, is preparing to rewrite the Zoning Ordinance. We hope to include a provision allowing urban agriculture, including community gardens and urban farms. An ordinance such as this will allow for long-term sustainability of existing gardens as well as the development of new gardens and farms, making fresh, locally grown foods accessible to more members of our community.

Action 2 Establish tenants' rights and education program

Overview

In Meadville, 56% of houses are renter occupied. This, coupled with the realities that 55% of our residential buildings were built before 1950, and 56% of residents are identified as "low to moderate income", indicates a need for a strong tenant-focused support network. Such a network will address community concerns expressed about the aesthetics and safety of our neighborhood and empower renters in tenant/landlord relationships. In resident interviews, many residents expressed concerns regarding unfair treatment by landlords, neglected properties, and unsafe homes. By sharing knowledge, skills, and resources, community members hope that this program will begin to create safer and healthier homes and neighborhoods.

Action 3 Develop neighborhood hubs

Overview

Neighborhood Hubs will be supported, physical spaces embedded in local neighborhoods where residents can gather, connect, and have increased access to resources. These Hubs will use pre-existing properties within neighborhoods in order to retain community identity. The Hubs will employ community residents as leaders and organizers of these spaces. This project meets the expressed need for safe, local, and affordable spaces for residents of all backgrounds and ages to gather and receive support and build relationships, both formally and informally, as well as the expressed need for easier access to information about support services.

Action 4 Establish recovery peer leaders

Overview

As a way to bridge the gap between individuals who are actively using drugs and those in long-term recovery, trained peer leaders will be delegated and placed in key institutions to support active users who choose to seek recovery. These peer leaders will be those who are currently in recovery and have a strong working knowledge of the tools and systems that exist to support and encourage community members to seek help and healing. Peer Leaders could be stationed at Neighborhood Hubs (see above).

We will be a healthy community in which everyone has access to health care, fresh food, quality housing, and support services.

Action 5 Host an "Ask an Addict" community panel

Overview

Many residents have expressed concerns around the current drug crisis in our community, but often feel ill-equipped to offer tangible solutions due to the magnitude of the issue. After listening to community members who are in recovery, we have heard that relationship-based education and open communication can be an effective healing tool. Several residents who are in recovery have proposed regular open forums in which community members can discuss addiction and the current public health crisis in personal as well as larger social contexts. This work will demonstrate the goal of the current "Let's Talk..." campaign to end the stigma of addiction in our community and will provide a resource for meaningful community education.

Action 6 Launch youth mentor program

Overview

Folks have expressed a desire for more drug and alcohol education resources within the Crawford Central School System. To meet this request, community members will develop a network of volunteer mentors who can have open and honest conversations with young people, encouraging them to choose paths that will prepare them for fulfilling futures. These mentors will primarily be paired with at-risk youth, but will also be able to go into schools to facilitate meaningful conversations about drug use, addiction, and recovery.

Action 7 Institute an Addiction and Recovery Advisory Council

Overview

One of the most concerning issues in addressing our current drug addiction crisis is the disconnect among those who are currently using, those in recovery, and those who are in positions of power. As a method to bridge this gap, an Addiction and Recovery Advisory Council will be established to work with the City and County to develop policies and institutions that promote safety, understanding, healing, support, and recovery. This council will be composed of those who are in recovery and their closest allies. The Addiction and Recovery Advisory Council will meet regularly and will have the opportunity to weigh in on City decisions that effect this vulnerable population.

Action 8 Create a Needle Exchange Program business plan

Overview

Residents have expressed interest in the idea of bringing a "Needle Exchange" program into the community. Such a program will benefit the users by reducing the chance of transmitting blood-borne illnesses such as Hepatitis C and HIV, as well as the families and friends in direct contact with active users. A needle exchange program also facilitates a way for used needles to be disposed of in a safe and appropriate manner, further decreasing chances of disease transmission in the community.

- Local tradition
- Historical Landmarks (Baldwin Reynolds, Diamond Park, Market House, the Academy)
- Anchor Institutions (Allegheny College, Meadville Medical Center, Meadville Public Library, Courthouse)
- Tradition-based events (Halloween Parade, Thurston Classic, Bulldog athletics)
- Locally owned, unique businesses (Pizza Villa, Tattered Corners, Eddie's, Hanks)

What's Underway

In the last few years, we've seen...

- the start of MeadvilleCalendar.com, a comprehensive community calendar sharing all of the good things going on in Meadville
- events thrown by community members in order to provide low-cost, family-friendly fun and strengthen our sense of community, like Winterfest, the Pumpkin Derby, Splash Bash, and more
- the successful crowd-sourced startup of Tarot Bean Roasting Co., our local coffee shop and gathering place
- the expansion of the Crawford County Historical Society with the purchase and renovation of the Tarr Mansion
- the start of Thankful Thursdays, a grassroots community clean-up initiative
- the expansion of the Second Saturday Community Markets, a monthly festival of local art, music, and activities in downtown Meadville

Small Town

We appreciate our close-knit, friendly, small-town vibe and the unique and special places, businesses, and events that contribute to a sense of community identity, pride, and togetherness.

Action 1 Establish a Welcome Committee

Overview

While Meadville has much to offer both residents and visitors, many of its areas of interest aren't easy to find without proper information. Additionally, local residents take pride in our small-town feel where everybody seems to know each other. Newcomers have addressed that upon coming to Meadville, they can feel like an outlier and find it difficult to participate in the "small-town vibe". Community members propose establishing a Welcoming Committee which will be responsible for welcoming newcomers to Meadville, its neighborhoods, and areas of local interest. Neighborhood captains will be recruited to keep an eye out for newcomers, including new renters to the surrounding neighborhood. These captains will share welcome packets, which will include general city information, coupons to local shops and gifts, and telephone numbers of importance, and/or places of interest.

Action 2 Spotlight community cleanup efforts

Overview

Many groups and citizens, including youth, are taking it upon themselves to maintain a cleaner and more beautiful Meadville. Community members feel recognition of these commitments to the community is important. Residents want to affirm these efforts by highlighting positive examples that showcase our community's commitment to one another. These spotlights could also encourage residents to continue to organize community cleanups.

Action 3 Create Block Party Toolkit

Overview

One recurring sentiment My Meadville has heard from community residents is that neighborhoods used to have a strong sense of identity. Neighbors knew one another and took great pride in their sense of connection and common identity. Residents feel the unique sense of neighborhood identity has been in decline. To foster connection among neighbors, community members have proposed developing a Block Party Toolkit. The Block Party Toolkit will provide a guide for organizing a neighborhood block party. Such a guide will include necessary City permits, suggestions for recruiting volunteers and partners, and a list of free resources like rentable life-size lawn games (see Nature). In providing the tools for residents to host their own block party, we hope to see increased connection, strengthened community identity, and inspired new leaders.

Local Economy

We value a community that supports and nurtures local businesses and our downtown, provides quality jobs, and involves people in the local economy in order to improve the quality of life for all residents.

Subthemes

- Downtown revitalization & beautification
- Variety of well-paying, high quality jobs
- Infrastructure and building improvement
- Retail diversification
- Incentives for locally owned businesses downtown
- Relationship building

What's Underway

In the last few years, we've seen...

- the revival of the Meadville Independent Business Alliance, a group of independent business owners in downtown Meadville that offers peer support, hosts trainings for small business owners, and organizes First Fridays and other downtown events
- the launch of the Entrepreneur Accelerator Grant Program, a new project of the Redevelopment Authority that offers grants and business mentoring to emerging entrepreneurs
- the hiring of a Community Development Coordinator housed at the Redevelopment Authority who is responsible for supporting local business owners, assisting emerging entrepreneurs, and bringing people downtown
- the launch of the Northwest PA Investment Cooperative, established to cooperatively purchase commercial real estate in downtown Meadville, increasing community control over our buildings and our downtown
- the revamp of the Commercial Facade Improvement Program, a loan program of the Redevelopment Authority aiming to increase the curb appeal of downtown businesses
- the establishment of Foundry Cowork, a meeting space and shared workspace for creative professionals

Local Economy

We value a community that supports and nurtures local businesses and our downtown, provides quality jobs, and involves people in the local economy in order to improve the quality of life for all residents.

Action 1 Create a local brand

Overview

Establish a "brand" specific to Meadville which communicates the identity and pride of our community. The brand, once designed and created, will then be used on maps and signs downtown for direction to areas of interest.

Action 2 Implement Participatory Budgeting (PB)

Overview

As a way of meaningfully involving people in the local economy, community members would like to see a percentage of the City's budget set aside for projects determined directly by the consensus of Meadville residents. "Designed to re-engage citizens in the governance of their town, community, or region, (participatory budgeting) uses a community-focused process to gather input from residents about budget decisions, develop a set of priorities, vote on them, and then fund them...Typically, the municipality allocates a small part of their total budget to projects selected through PB, ranging from less than 1% to 20%." We value a community that supports and nurtures local businesses and our downtown, provides quality jobs, and involves people in the local economy in order to improve the quality of life for all residents.

Action 3 Host a local vendor fair

Overview

Our anchor institutions and local businesses hold a great deal of purchasing power. In an effort to keep as much of that money as possible circulating within our local economy, we would like to hold a local vendor fair. This fair would showcase what is offered locally, encouraging institutions and businesses to source from local businesses and support a prosperous local economy.

What's Underway

In the last few years, we've seen...

- collaboration among local municipalities and the French Creek Valley Conservancy to start the Creek Towns Program, which seeks to create positive, sustainable economic growth based around the incredible value of French Creek
- the start of renovations and restorations to Meadville's oldest parks, Bicentennial Beers Park
- the revival of the beloved Summer Parks Program that staffs our public parks with attendants and provides summer programming and free lunches to local youth

Assembled by Rayshon Knight.

We value a community with public access to natural resources and recreational amenities that add beauty and opportunities to for physical activity and recognize our responsibility to conserve our environment.

Action 1 Establish Meadville Environmental Advisory Council

Overview

The City of Meadville has achieved Gold Standard Certification from the Pennsylvania Sustainable Communities Certification Program. This program helps communities to track their progress in becoming environmentally friendly places to live, work, and play. Meadville's Gold Certification supports the commitment to conserving our natural environment that folks have expressed in their stories. The next step in the the certification process will be to achieve Platinum Certification. In order to continue to improve Meadville's sustainability, the Meadville Environmental Advisory Council (MEAC) will be established. In this council, representatives of the Meadville community will propose, collaborate, and execute resolutions to make Meadville more socially and environmentally sustainable.

Action 3 Establish kayak and canoe rental on French Creek

Overview

According to residents, French Creek is a well-loved and highly valued community resource. Currently, there are no public opportunities that allow residents to play in and explore the river. Residents would like to see kayaks and canoes made available for use along French Creek, as well as a shuttle system to and from access points. These resources will allow our community to better engage with and enjoy French Creek - one of the most ecologically important waterways in the country and one of America's "Last Great Places," according to the Nature Conservancy.

- Job readiness programming
- Engaging and engaged teachers
- Engaged families
- Athletic programs
- After school programming
- Arts
- Community spirit
- Education for all stages of life

What's Underway

In the last few years, we've seen...

- the successful implementation of the Going Places Project, a mobile early learning classroom that brings information to families where they are and emphasizes the importance of high quality early learning
- three seasons of Grow Meadville, a summer program for teens that builds relationships with place and peers through cooking, growing food, and problem-solving
- the establishment of the Creating Landscapes Early Learning Center, a childcare center providing high-quality early learning

Education

We value a quality local education system that challenges students in a safe learning environment so that all students are capable of building a better future.

Action 1 Increase access to counseling services for students and families

Overview

To further address the traumas experienced within our community, residents have indicated a desire for a more robust system of counseling opportunities available to both students and their families. Working with Systems of Care, the Meadville Medical Center, and mental health providers in the community, the intention is to develop a system of affordable psychological professionals who can support and guide students and their families through difficult circumstances, empowering them to seek out help and healing in a variety of ways without relying on referrals from a Primary Care Physician. Additionally, a stronger emphasis on mental health awareness and care will allow for the community as a whole to develop stronger resiliency strategies.

Action 2 Sustain Summer Parks Program

Overview

Many residents have expressed concerns over the lack of educational opportunities available to students during the summer. Community members have pinpointed the parks as a location for education and student engagement to continue over the school break, equipping students with preparations for the following school year and minimizing activities or actions which can place youth in physically harmful situations. After hearing this, a version of the Summer Parks Program has been revived, but it needs a permanent organizational home, funding sources, and a promotional strategy.

Education

We value a quality local education system that challenges students in a safe learning environment so that all students are capable of building a better future.

Action 3 Encourage school board to reflect community

Overview

My Meadville has listened to the concerns of many residents who feel far removed from school board decisions that affect their children and their community. Residents have suggested promoting 2-3 local parent and 2-3 student community representatives to serve on the school board in order to have resident concerns addressed and make Crawford Central School District more reflective of the community it serves.

- After school and mentoring programs
- Character building, team building, skill building, relationship building
- Safe, accessible, affordable, and supportive spaces
- Outdoor recreation
- Opportunities for growth

What's Underway

In the last few years, we've seen...

- the revival of the beloved Summer Parks Program that staffs our public parks with attendants and provides summer programming and free lunches to local youth
- the start of the Meadville Area Teens Lounge, an idea born from Grow Meadville for a space that is designed and built by teenagers for teenagers
- the creation of the Community Playspace, regular times for families with children to come together and play in a free, unstructured environment
- the local return of the national mentoring program Big Brothers Big Sisters
- the implementation of garden education in several public school classrooms
- the development of the Creating Landscapes Basketball League, started by local families whose children did not make the school team and had no other option to play the sport
- the start of CHAPS' Youth Journey Center Clubhouse, an expansion of their program that assists young members in their recovery from mental illness

Action 1 Create a HYPE (Helping Youth Promote Excellence) Squad

Overview

Helping Youth Promote Excellence, known as The HYPE Squad, is a group dedicated to creating an empowered network of teens within the community. This idea came from the My Meadville Ideas Summit, created by the teens in attendance. HYPE Squad aims to address the issue of teenagers not knowing what amenities exist to them and will consist of HYPE-selected teens to facilitate promotion of opportunities, a teen lounge as one example (expressed during the summit). It can also ensure teenage representation at town events.

Action 2 Create a Youth Advisory Committee (YAC)

Overview

With ideal membership reflecting the diversity of youth in Meadville, The Youth Advisory Committee (YAC) will be responsible for identifying youth trends, advising local leadership, and assisting in the development of policies relevant to the youth. They will also be in charge of creating projects and programs within the city to get the youth more involved in the community as well as looking for opportunities to partner with other organizations that empower youth and expand their network. This would ideally extend to the school board to facilitate a voice for the youth within important community decision-making.

Transportation

We value a convenient and flexible local transportation system that makes important places accessible for all residents.

Subthemes

- Bikability and walkability
- Sidewalk conditions
- Road conditions
- Public Transit

What's Underway

In the last few years, we've seen...

- upgrades to the Eldred Glen trails at the Meadville Area Recreation Complex
- the addition of three buses that run on compressed natural gas (CNG) to our public transit fleet
- the addition of new public bus routes, connecting Meadville to Titusville & Conneaut Lake
- the addition of sharrows on City and State roads

We value a convenient and flexible local transportation system that makes important places accessible for all residents.

Action 1 Organize a "Tool Shop Bus Stop Competition" (Shelter Expansion)

Overview

Many residents have expressed that the long wait time between buses makes the public transportation system inconvenient. Further, spending that wait time at an unfurnished bus stop makes the system uncomfortable and prohibitive to certain populations, especially in inclement weather. As a means to make Meadville's public transportation system more accommodating to the rider and increase the visibility of the Crawford Area Transportation Authority (CATA) system, residents will work with CATA to increase the number of bus stop shelters in Meadville. As a cost-saving measure and as a way to get more community buy-in and awareness, community members suggest holding a bus shelter competition among local tool shops and the students of the Crawford County Career and Technical Center. The completed shelters will then be placed around the community at appropriate stops.

Action 2 Revise Crawford Area Transportation Authority's bag limit policy

Overview

Currently, a rider of Crawford Area Transit Authority buses is limited to two bags aboard the bus. This bag limit makes it difficult for riders to use the bus to make regular errands, especially grocery shopping. This is especially true for riders shopping for families. As a way to encourage ridership by addressing the needs of riders, residents will work with CATA to revise the current bag limit policy, allowing for additional bags of necessary items.

Action 3 Increase access to information about public transit

Overview

Many neighbors shared that they currently do not use the CATA transit system because they have difficulty accessing route and fare information. At the same time, regular riders shared similar difficulty receiving route updates. In order to address this, residents propose developing an app that would make information more accessible to riders. This could be done with the help of Laurel Technical Institute, Allegheny College, and Crawford County Career & Technical Center students. This app would also create an alternative to printed materials. Additionally, residents recommend that CATA employ a range of internet and media sources such as Facebook, Armstrong Cable's advertisement channel, radio advertisements (via local radio stations), as well as publish bus route information in the Meadville Tribune.

Action 4 Increase available transportation for youth

Overview

Youth & Teens need the ability to access events and amenities without being concerned by transportation, a current barrier to teen involvement within Meadville and its respective events. With access to transportation, they will be more able to be involved and engaged in the community, increasing community pride on the youth level. One possible way to achieve this includes implementing a policy of free rides for youth on CATA buses. Alternatively, residents suggest a youth-oriented shuttle to ease capacity concerns of the current public transit system.

Action 5 Create a mobile bike repair unit

Overview

To enable active living and encouraging alternative means of transportation, residents would like to see a mobile bike repair unit. The vision is a repair shop housed in a trailer pulled behind a bicycle that can stop in parks, neighborhoods, business districts, and public places where bike users can use the tools to repair their own bikes and can share/gain information from the bike repair operator on how to fix their bike. Such a resource would encourage bike usage, develop mechanical skills and knowledge among children and adults, and build relationships among folks who use bikes. Additionally, this unit would allow for folks to conduct minor fixes to their bikes, free of charge. This would be especially useful for those who, due to financial constraints, rely on bicycles as their primary form of transportation.
